

About the GreenStep Cities Task Force

The GreenStep Cities Task Force is a citizen-led group working in partnership with the City of Alexandria to support and guide our participation in the Minnesota GreenStep Cities program.

Over the next year, the task force will build on the work already completed, reviewing the city’s current progress and identifying opportunities to move forward. Together, the group will help shape a shared vision and develop a practical work plan that reflects Alexandria’s priorities, strengths and values.

This is a non-partisan effort focused on what matters most in our community: making thoughtful, practical choices that enhance quality of life today while planning responsibly for the future.

At its core, the task force is rooted in a simple idea: everyone can do something. Whether through small, everyday actions or larger community initiatives, each contribution plays a part in helping Alexandria continue to grow and thrive.

Eligibility & Commitment

To be considered for the GreenStep Cities Task force, applicants should:

- Reside within the City of Alexandria or be an ALP Utilities customer
- Have an interest in contributing to community-focused initiatives
- Be willing to participate in regular meetings and project work over the course of the one-year term

This is a volunteer, citizen-led group and we welcome individuals from a wide range of backgrounds and experiences.
